

EGGLESCLIFFE SCHOOL

SEND Policy

Reviewed July 2017

Definition of Special Educational Needs

Pupils have Special Educational Needs if they have learning difficulties or disabilities which call for special educational provision to be made for him or her.

A young person has a learning difficulty or disability if he or she:

- has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age, or
- has a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of educational facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions.

Pupils must not be regarded as having a learning difficulty solely because the language or form of language of their home is different from the language in which they will be taught.

The SEND provision outlined in this policy is underpinned by the SEND information report for the school, which includes the Local Offer.

The government published new guidelines for the support and provision for children with special educational needs in SEND Code of practice: 0-25 Years.

The main changes from the SEND Code of Practice (2001) reflect the changes introduced by the Children and Families Act 2014. These are:

The Code of Practice (2014) covers the 0-25 age range and includes guidance relating to disabled children and young people as well as those with SEND.

There is a clearer focus on the participation of children and young people and parents in decision-making at individual and strategic levels. Pupil voice and parent/carer voice are fundamental to all discussions and decisions being made with students who have special educational needs.

There is a stronger focus on high aspirations and on improving outcomes for children and young people.

It is required that all parties work closely to ensure close co-operation between education, health and social care.

The school website show our school SEND information offer that includes the Local Offer of support for children and young people with SEND or disabilities.

The new guidance for education and training settings requires a graduated approach to identifying and supporting pupils and students with SEND (to replace School Action and School Action Plus). This is now known as SEND Support (K).

For children and young people with more complex needs a co-ordinated assessment process and the new 0-25 Education, Health and Care plan (EHC plan) replace statements and Learning Difficulty Assessments (LDAs).

We focus on support that enables those with SEND to succeed in their education and make a successful transition to adulthood.

Information is provided on relevant duties under the Equality Act 2010.

There are four broad areas of SEND, these are:

- Communication and Interaction
This area of need includes children with Autism Spectrum Condition and those with Speech, Language and Communication Needs
- Cognition and Learning
This includes children with Specific Learning Difficulties, Moderate Learning Difficulties, Severe Learning Difficulties and Profound and Multiple Learning Difficulties
- Social, Emotional and Mental Health Difficulties
This includes any Students who have an emotional, social or mental health need that is impacting on their ability to learn.
- Sensory and/or Physical Difficulties
This area of need includes children with hearing impairment, visual impairment, multi-sensory impairment and physical difficulties.

Philosophy

Eggescliffe School teaching, learning and support is aimed at enabling pupils with SEND to make progress and reach their full potential in addition to being fully included in the school community and supported to make a successful transition through the Key Stages and into adulthood.

We fully believe that the child is at the centre of all that we do and always aim to work closely with parents/carers, the child, professional agencies and staff to provide the best possible learning opportunities to enable every child to 'let their light shine' and achieve their full potential. In the words of our school motto we 'move forward together'.

All students are entitled to have the support and education that enables them to make progress through the provision of well differentiated, Quality First Teaching which ensures that students who have additional learning needs are supported with their learning and life skills development.

At Eggescliffe School, SEND provision is integral to the school aims and the principles underpinning this policy are those upon which the whole ethos of the school is based:

- To have an ethos that makes us an inclusive school, engendering a sense of community and belonging by recognising, rewarding and valuing diversity among our pupils;
- To offer all pupils the opportunity to fulfil their potential;
- To create a stimulating, caring and safe environment;
- To work in partnership with pupils and parents/carers.

The policy for SEND at Eggescliffe School is therefore based upon several fundamental beliefs:

- We believe that early identification of students needs is fundamental to providing the support that they need as soon as possible.
- We believe that working closely with our primary schools is fundamental to ensuring a smooth and successful transition into Eggescliffe. We ensure we attend review meetings as early as Year 5 and provide enhanced transition opportunities for our vulnerable students in Year 6.
- We believe in the right of all pupils to a broad and balanced curriculum, relevant and differentiated, which demonstrates progression and coherence.
- We believe that all teachers should be regarded as teachers of SEND with the ability to identify and provide for those pupils who have special educational needs through well differentiated Quality First Teaching.
- We believe that pupils with special educational needs should be able to join in the activities/trips of the school together with pupils who do not have special educational needs, so far as is reasonably practical and compatible with the child receiving the special educational provision and the efficient education of the pupils with whom they are educated.
- We believe that all pupils can experience success in learning. We are aware that the right to a common curriculum does not automatically ensure access to it, nor progress within it. Therefore, we believe that it is the role of all senior leaders, teachers and support staff to eliminate, as far as possible, the barriers that prevent pupils from participating fully.

- We believe in robust data tracking and monitoring to assess students' progress regularly throughout the year and this help formulate actions relating to possible required interventions, curriculum modifications or further links with professional agencies.
- We believe that participation in the curriculum by pupils with SEND is most likely to be achieved by encouraging good practice for all pupils.
- We believe that maximum success and progress can only be achieved by the joint cooperation, understanding and planning of staff, parents/carers, pupils, governors, support services and the LA.

Aims

1. To provide a flexible and responsive system which is able to effectively support pupils' learning through early identification of need that is shared with all key staff as soon as possible.
2. To identify pupils support need and disseminate information about them to all staff, in order to raise awareness amongst staff and to cater for the pupil's needs at the earliest opportunity. This information is supplied as a profile that is developed through discussion with parents/carers, the child and any professionals involved with the identification of a child's needs.
3. To ensure that students are encouraged to actively be involved in discussion of their SEND needs and the development of strategies that they feel helps them overcome their difficulties with regard to learning or the learning environment.
4. To provide the required support and teaching strategies to eliminate barriers to learning through providing support to pupils and staff within the mainstream curriculum to help support the special needs of the individual pupil.
4. To promote a commitment to a whole school approach to meeting pupils' SEND by working with departments and supporting the development of teaching styles, strategies, interventions and materials in pursuit of a differentiated Quality First Teaching.
5. To work in partnership with parents/carers regarding individual pupils and SEND issues.
6. To work in partnership with the LA Support Services/Outside agencies and colleges/specialist placements to gain support and advice on individual pupils with significant learning difficulties.
7. To work in partnership with pupils to raise achievement, confidence, self-esteem and awareness of themselves as learners and of their own responsibility for learning.

Roles and Responsibilities

The SEND policy will be subject to a regular cycle of monitoring, evaluation and review, and a report submitted to the governing body regularly. The governing body should have an oversight of the arrangements and provisions for meeting Special Educational Needs, including how funding; equipment and personnel resources are deployed.

The SENDCo meets with the SEND Governor, Mrs L Hearn, once a term as part of the school quality assurance policy.

The head teacher has the ultimate responsibility for the day-to-day management of the school's work, including provision for SEND.

The SEND department comprises of the SENDCo, Dr C A Lear, Deputy SENDCo Mrs L Cole and team highly skilled and experienced teachers, TAs and mentors.

The Special Educational Needs Department:

We have our 'Endeavour Suite' which is being developed further as our support base for children who may require support from the SENDCo, Deputy SENDCo or one of our experienced TAs or mentors. This area is staffed all the time and children may access this when anxious and not able to attend lessons full time whilst still being able to keep up with work from lessons. They may also access the base if they need some 'reflection time' away from a lesson or situation, if they are struggling with sensory overload and if they are needing 1:1 time with a member of staff. The Endeavour Suite is where a child can come from early in the morning, at break and lunchtime if they need to attend interventions, homework support or just to have a warm drink and settle into the day. Within the Endeavour Suite we have a teaching area where some children may have lessons taught by the same teacher most of the time as they develop confidence, literacy and numeracy skills to support them as the transition into Year 7. These children will however, also access lessons across the school in different curriculum areas at different times.

Children can also access the Endeavour Suite if they want to just sit and read, do homework or join one of our lunchtime activities if they are anxious about the 'busy' break and lunchtimes.

The SENDCo, Deputy SENDCo and Support Team:

- take a leading role in the identification and assessment of SEND
- raise awareness of individual needs and general SEND issues
- provide targeted support to individuals or small groups with learning to enable them to access the curriculum (e.g. interventions and mainstream in-class support)
- assist in supporting the planning and delivering of lessons in co-operation with the class teacher
- support teacher assessment and monitoring through observation and recording and carrying out the required exam access arrangements for the individual student's needs across the school
- employ and advise on strategies for developing positive attitudes and behaviour in the classroom
- be involved in the delivery of various interventions and direct teaching of small groups in literacy and numeracy ensuring that progress is regularly monitored and impact is shown.

The role of the SENDCo:

- Overseeing the day-to-day operation of the SEND department and policy;
- Liaising with and advising teachers, sharing relevant information and strategies to enable pupils with SEND to achieve their full potential;
- Co-ordinating provision and overseeing records for pupils with SEND;
- Monitoring the progress of pupils with SEND;
- Liaising with parents/carers, outside agencies, feeder primary schools and post-16 provision; ensure a smooth transition at all stages and be a part of the primary transition planning process as early as possible;
- Contributing to delivery and co-ordination the in-service training of staff through internal and external providers.
- Working with partnership schools/colleges to share and develop good practice and support smooth transitions.

Every teacher is responsible and accountable for the progress and development of pupils in their class, even where children access support from teaching assistants or specialist staff. The SEND code of practice highlights that quality first teaching, differentiated for individual children, is the first step in responding to and supporting pupils who have or may have SEND needs. The graduated approach of Assess, Plan, Do and Review is used to ensure all children are given the support they need by teachers, support staff and professional agencies (if required).

Partnership with Parents/Carers

Eggescliffe School will have regard to the SEND Code of practice: 0-25 years when carrying out its duties toward all pupils with special educational needs and ensure that parents/carers are notified of a decision by the school that SEND provision is being made for the child.

Partnership with parents/carers plays a significant role in enabling children and young people with SEND to achieve their potential. The school recognises that parents/carers hold key information and have knowledge and experience to contribute to the shared view of a child's needs and the best ways of supporting them. All parents/carers of children with special educational needs will be involved in the discussions regarding their child's needs and they will be supported to play an active and valued role in their children's education and support provision. We aim to work closely with parents/carers of pupils with SEND by:

- asking for parent/carer views to help inform decisions regarding support provision. We will ensure that parents/carers are kept informed of the outcome of assessments and investigations undertaken as a result of their views either as part of an EHCP review or as part of the child's school support plan/profile.
- informing parents/carers as soon as we are aware of any difficulties their child may be experiencing
- requesting that parents/carers inform the school of any circumstances which may affect their child's functioning
- involving parents/carers in discussing their child's problems and any possible action we may take
- requesting that parents/carers, wherever possible, help us to support their child's learning at home such as hearing their child read, regularly checking planners and our online 'Show My Homework' for homework and activities set and supporting interventions suggested to support a child at any stage in their educational journey.
- involving parents/carers in review procedures
- making ourselves accessible and available to parents/carers for advice and support on an individual basis and more formally at parents' evenings

Stockton LA's Parent Partnership Service provides information and support to parents/carers of pupils with SEND. A wide range of information and advice may be obtained by contacting this independent service as located on the Local Authority website referenced at the end of this policy.

The Voice of the Child

Young people with special educational needs often have a unique knowledge of their own needs and their views about what sort of help they would like to help them make the most of their education will be ascertained. They will be encouraged to participate in all the decision-making and review processes and contribute to the assessment of their needs and their learning journey. They will be fully involved in all discussions and are involved in decisions regarding their educational requirements as they leave school/sixth form and prepare for adulthood.

Admission Arrangements

Eggescliffe School strives to be an inclusive school. All pupils are welcome, including those with special educational needs, in accordance with Stockton LA's Admissions Policy. According to the Education Act 1996, (Section 316), if a parent/carer wishes to have their child with a statement of their special educational needs educated in the mainstream, the LEA must provide a place unless this is incompatible with the efficient education of other children and there are no reasonable steps that can be taken to prevent the incompatibility. Under the terms of Equality Act 2010, disabled students should not be treated less favourably, without justification, for a reason relating to their disability.

Allocation of Resources

The commitment to SEND is reflected in the generous allocation of resources from the school budget which exceeds the amount delegated for this purpose by the LEA. Eggescliffe School receives funding for pupils with SEND in three main ways and follows LA guidance to ensure that all pupils' needs are appropriately met:

- the base budget covers teaching and curriculum expenses, as well as the cost of the SENDCo
- the delegated general learning support budget covers the additional support required by pupils with SEND who do not have an EHCP.
- specific delegated funds allocated to pupils with significant educational needs including medical needs and those who have an EHCP and receive more than fifteen hours of teaching assistant support.

This funding makes provision for:

- Staffing – this includes the SENDCO and Deputy SENDCO who are qualified teachers, and a team of teaching assistants. Special Needs staff share a wide range of expertise in SEND, including experience in teaching pupils with emotional and behavioural difficulties, moderate learning difficulties, specific learning difficulties, autistic spectrum disorders and physical and sensory impairment.
- Facilities - the SEND Department, 'Endeavour Suite' has a well-resourced and constantly developing teaching and support area that provides for small group or individual programmes of study, particularly in literacy and numeracy. There is a high level of ICT availability provided to support various online intervention programmes, students who need laptops/tablets in class or who just need to come and use the computer for help with classwork or homework. One of the classrooms is a teaching area for small groups of children and is also equipped to allow access to online intervention programmes such as ARROW and EducationCity. Another function of the support base is as a quiet and 'safe haven' where certain children who are anxious about the start of the school day, break and lunchtimes can come and access their interventions, get help with homework, meet their key worker, sit and read, play board games, be part of ever developing clubs such as Lego, Pokemon, arts and crafts. The area also functions as a resource and advice base for all members of staff. We are committed to the use of IT to enhance learning opportunities of pupils with SEND and aim to update our capabilities as resources allow. The school has installed a lift, three toilets for the disabled, ramps, several hand rails and regularly upgrades the site to improve and assist access. Equipment for pupils with physical difficulties is acquired according to need and is made accessible around the school site.
- Evergreen Room : This room is staffed full time and is part of the Endeavour Suite where certain children can come if they are unable to access lessons due to SEMH needs or they require a little 'reflection time' if they are unable to access their lesson due to perhaps sensory needs.

Resources within the Department are allotted according to the principle of 'hierarchy of need' i.e. the greater the need of an individual pupil, the greater the allocation of resources in terms of alternative one to one and small group teaching and in-class support. All departments are expected to address the needs of pupils with SEN through subject-specific resourcing from their own capitation allowances, supplemented from time to time with matched funding from the SEN budget.

Identification, Assessment and Provision

Provision for pupils with special educational needs is a whole-school responsibility, requiring a whole-school response. In addition to the governing body, the head teacher, the SEN Department and all other members of staff have important responsibilities. Central to the work of every class and every subject is a continuous cycle of planning, teaching, assessment and evaluation that takes account of the wide range of abilities, aptitudes and interests of the pupils. The majority of pupils will learn and progress within these arrangements. However, for pupils with SEN it may be necessary to provide an enhanced level of provision that supports and develops their learning abilities.

Graduated response

As stated previously by using the Assess, Plan, Do, Review policy Eggescliffe School recognises that there is a continuum of SEND and adopts a graduated response to meeting these needs. This requires the initial use of high quality first, differentiated, teaching in all subjects and all classrooms and the help of support staff and school resources before bringing specialist expertise to bear on the difficulties that a pupil is experiencing.

Where a pupil is identified as having SEND, action will be taken to remove barriers to learning and put effective special educational provision in place. This SEND support will be part of the cycle through which earlier decisions and actions are revisited, refined and revised with a growing understanding of the pupil's needs and of what supports the pupil in making good progress and securing good outcomes. It draws on more detailed approaches, more frequent review and more specialist expertise in successive cycles in order to match interventions to the SEND of children and young people.

Identification

Assessment is a continuing process that can identify pupils who may have special educational needs. The school will measure children's progress by referring to:

- evidence from teacher observation and assessment
- Key Stage 2 results from primary schools
- against academic targets set in all subject areas in all Key Stages
- information from external agencies
- their performance against the level descriptions within the National Curriculum at the end of a key stage
- standardised screening or assessment tools.

The SENDCo is part of the transition team at Eggescliffe and works closely throughout the year with colleagues, parents/carers and professionals across the partnership schools. The SENDCo / Deputy SENDCo will attend the Year 5/6 annual reviews of primary pupils with an EHCP to meet parents/carers and assist in the decision-making process regarding transition. The SENDCo will also visit primary schools in the spring and/or summer terms prior to transition to obtain detailed information in order to plan effectively for all pupils with SEN. Transition programmes for primary pupils with SEN may be arranged at these times.

English as an additional language (please see policy on the school website)

The identification and assessment of the special educational needs of young people whose first language is not English requires particular care. Eggescliffe School have a clear policy and procedure with regard to the identification of the needs of children with EAL and always aim to provide the required support and intervention to meet a child's individual needs. All staff have access to training (at certain times in the CPD calendar) regarding teaching strategies for children who have English as an additional language.

Monitoring pupil progress

For many children with SEND needs at EHCP or Support level. Individual pupil profiles are available for all staff to see and these highlight a child's needs and suggest some supportive strategies for use in the classroom as part of quality first teaching.

Teachers may conclude that the strategies they are currently using with a pupil are not resulting in the pupil learning as effectively as possible. In these circumstances, they will consult the SENDCo /Deputy SENDCo to consider what else might be done. The starting point will always be a review of the strategies being used and the way in which these might be developed. Evaluation of the strategies in place may lead to the conclusion that the pupil requires help over and above that which is normally available within the particular class or subject. The key test of the need for action is evidence that current rates of progress are below what is expected in line with targets set. Expected progress can be defined in a number of ways. It might, for instance, be progress which:

- is making required progress towards their end of year/end of key stage target in all subject areas
- closes the attainment gap between the pupil and the pupil's peers
- prevents the attainment gap growing wider
- is similar to that of peers starting from the same attainment baseline, but less than that of the majority of peers
- matches or betters the pupil's previous rate of progress
- ensures continued access to the full curriculum
- demonstrates an improvement in self-help, social or personal skills
- demonstrates improvements in the pupil's behaviour
- is likely to lead to appropriate accreditation and qualification
- is likely to lead to participation in further education, training and/or employment.

The school data and monitoring cycle ensures that for each year group progress and attendance data is gathered on a child regularly across all subject areas. This data is analysed by key staff including the SENDCo and the outcome of this is that an action plan is developed and staff hold meetings with key children, and parent/carers (if required) to discuss the action plan and expectations around making progress.

The SENDCo/Deputy SENDCo will meet with children regularly as will the Key worker TAs.

Various interventions relating to literacy and numeracy are offered before, after and during school as required to meet a child's individual needs.

Should a child's curriculum pathway need to be modified to meet their needs and support progress both academically and with skills for life discussions will be held between key members of staff and parent/carers.

In order to support monitoring of pupil progress further the SENDCo/Deputy SENDCo will visit children in class across subject areas, take part in book scrutinises and review feedback from TAs.

Regular SEND updates are provided for staff either through emails, the pastoral bulletin or at staff briefings.

Exam Access Arrangements

Adjustments for Access Arrangements for formal assessments/examinations are made in accordance with the JCQ regulations and as outlined in the school Access policy. <http://www.jcq.org.uk/exams-office/access-arrangements-and-special-consideration>. (See also the school policy on access arrangements).

Referrals for exam access consideration are provided via subject teachers, discussions with parent/carer and external professionals on an individual basis. A qualified member of staff will carry out all relevant assessments in line with the JCQ regulations. These assessments, in addition to medical reports (if required) support decisions around whether a child is entitled to extra time, a scribe, use of a laptop, prompter, reader and a separate room.

School request for an Education, Health and Care assessment

SEND support should continually be reviewed and be adapted or replaced depending on how effective it has been in achieving the agreed outcomes. Where, despite relevant and purposeful action to identify, assess and meet the SEND of the child or young person, the child or young person has not made expected progress, a request for an Education, Health and Care assessment and High Needs Funding may be considered.

The purpose of an EHC plan is to make special educational provision to meet the special educational needs of the child or young person, to secure improved outcomes for them across education, health and social care and, as they get older, prepare them for adulthood. This process follows a statutory format and to achieve this, local authorities use the information from the assessment information gathered from schools and professionals to:

- establish and record the views, interests and aspirations of the parents and child or young person
- provide a full description of the child or young person's special educational needs and any health and social care needs
- establish outcomes across education, health and social care based on the child or young person's needs and aspirations
- specify the provision required and how education, health and care services will work together to meet the child or young person's needs and support the achievement of the agreed outcomes

In considering whether an EHC needs assessment is necessary, the local authority should consider whether there is evidence that despite the early years provider and/or Egglecliffe School having taken relevant and purposeful action to identify, assess and meet the special educational needs of the child or young person, the child or young person has not made expected progress. To inform their decision the local authority will need to take into account a wide range of evidence, and should pay particular attention to:

- evidence of the child or young person's academic attainment (or developmental milestones in younger children) and rate of progress
- information about the nature, extent and context of the child or young person's SEND
- evidence of the action already being taken by Egglecliffe School to meet the child or young person's SEND
- evidence that where progress has been made, it has only been as the result of much additional intervention and support at a sustained level over and above that which is usually provided
- evidence of the child or young person's physical, emotional and social development and health needs, drawing on relevant evidence from clinicians and other health professionals and what has been done to meet these by other agencies.

Reviewing an EHC plan

EHC plans should be used to actively monitor children and young people's progress towards their outcomes and longer term aspirations. They are reviewed annually. Reviews focus on the child or young person's progress towards achieving the outcomes specified in the EHC plan. The review must also consider whether these outcomes and supporting targets remain appropriate.

Reviews should also:

- gather and assess information to support the child or young person's progress and their access to teaching and learning
- review the special educational provision made for the child or young person to ensure it is being effective in ensuring access to teaching and learning and good progress
- review the health and social care provision made for the child or young person and its effectiveness in ensuring good progress towards outcomes

Eggescliffe School

- consider the continuing appropriateness of the EHC plan in the light of the child or young person's progress during the previous year or changed circumstances and whether changes are required including any changes to outcomes, enhanced provision, change of educational establishment or whether the EHC plan should be discontinued
- set new interim targets for the coming year and where appropriate, agree new outcomes

Staff Training

Staff development is essential to the commitment to a whole school approach to SEN. To this end, school-based INSET devoted to SEND issues will be delivered during professional development days/evening sessions and on a consultancy basis with the SEND Department. All staff and governors will be encouraged to take advantage of INSET opportunities provided by the LA or external agencies, including the special arrangements for the induction of newly qualified teachers. Recently appointed staff will be briefed by the SENDCo and provided with relevant documentation about the pupils they teach. There is an SEND update given to all staff at the start of an academic year and as and when required as the year progresses should the need arise.

Use of agencies and facilities from outside school

External support services can play an important part in helping to identify, assess and make provision for pupils with special educational needs. The school makes regular use of:

- the Educational Psychology Service for assessment and advice about individual pupils and SEN issues in general
- CAMHS and medical professionals
- Occupational therapy, Speech language and communication team
- the Education Social Worker for advice and support for pupils with SEND who may also be experiencing domestic or attendance difficulties
- Redhill Unit for Anxious or School Phobic pupils for whom other interventions have failed
- advisory teachers from the LA Raising Achievement and Performance Team for assessment and advice about individual pupils requiring learning and behaviour support
- teachers from the Hearing and Visually Impaired Services for assessment, advice and direct involvement with pupils
- teachers from the Multilingual Service for assessment, advice and involvement with SEND pupils who also have English as a second language
- Youth Directions for careers advice and support for pupils with SEND, especially 'transition reviews' in Years 9 and 11
- the New Directions and New Start programmes for disaffected pupils at Key Stage 3/4
- the Bishopston Centre for pupils who have been, or are in danger of being, excluded
- the LEA Advisory Service for advice and guidance relating to SEND issues
- other statutory or voluntary bodies as appropriate (e.g. Social Services, the National Health Service, charitable organisations and voluntary bodies specialising in SEN), with particular reference to children subject to a care order or accommodated by a local authority. While the school welcomes support and advice from voluntary bodies, staff and governors of the school strongly discourage regular attendance at classes arranged by them during school time
- Daisy Chain
- Colleges e.g. Skills Academy, Stockton Riverside College, Askam Bryan College

Links with other schools

Strong links exist between this school and all our feeder primaries. SEN issues are discussed at least once a year, and this information is instrumental in ensuring a smooth transition between the phases. The SENDCo will always respond to invitations from primary schools to gather information on individual pupils, including the annual reviews of pupils with statements in Years 5 and 6.

SENDCos from secondary schools in the authority meet on a regular basis to discuss SEN issues and offer mutual support.

Evaluating the success of the SEND Policy

The success of Egglescliffe School's SEN Policy and provision is evaluated through:

- the monitoring of classroom practice by the Head teacher, Heads of Department and the SENDCo /Deputy SENDCo and support team
- the progress made by SEND pupils in terms of National Curriculum levels in core and other subjects
- the performance of SEND pupils in nationally accredited tests and examinations (eg GCSE and GCE)
- the analysis of pupil tracking and testing data for individual pupils and cohorts
- evaluation by staff
- comments from parents/carers and pupils
- parent/carer involvement, especially at meetings about their children
- external evaluation by Stockton LA and OFSTED
- the monitoring of policy and practice by the SEND Governor
- the Governors' Annual Report to Parents/Carers.

Arrangements for dealing with complaints

The school and the LA have a comprehensive complaints policy and procedure that cover most situations. In the unlikely event of the failure of these procedures, parents/carers may have the right of recourse to a Special Needs Tribunal, which deals with complaints relating to the statutory duties of an LA. Details of these procedures may be obtained from the school, the LA or the DfES, as appropriate.
